

WANTS BOARD TO RESIGN

Citizens' Meeting Told By Principal Blaisdell That He Was Voted Against Four To One

"Out with the School Board" was the sentiment of a mass meeting called by a Citizens Committee Wednesday night at Rockland High School auditorium, which 800 attended.

Aroused by the allegedly enforced resignation of Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell, head of the school for the past 19 years, and by fuel added to the fire by the students' indignation parade of Monday and the continued meetings within the school and the meeting of Student Council members with the School Board Tuesday night, a group formed themselves as a citizens committee and called the meeting.

The petition read in the meeting by Mrs. Eula Gerrish and asking for the resignation of the board read as follows:

"We the undersigned citizens of the City of Rockland, charge that the School Board of the City of Rockland has been evasive, uncooperative and biased in school matters, particularly as to the contract of Mr. Blaisdell.

It is therefore our opinion that the usefulness of John M. Richardson, Allan P. MacAlary, Dr. Gilmore Soule and E. M. Lawrence as members thereof has ceased and we respectfully ask that they resign forthwith for the benefit of our schools."

Harold Whitehill was the sole board member whose resignation was not requested in the petition.

Heading the committee was Charles McIntosh, who is also president of the Junior-Senior High School Parent-Teacher Association and owner of an ice business. The remainder of the committee consisted of Mrs. Eula B. Gerrish, former teacher and school board member in years past; Mrs. Clara Kelsey, teacher in the Owls Head school system; Mrs. Merton Sawyer and Mrs. Howard Proctor.

Christopher S. Roberts, Rockland attorney, was appointed chairman of the meeting after being nominated by Dana Cummings. Mrs. Elsa Constantine was appointed secretary.

A report of the meeting of the students with the school board Tuesday night was read by Peter Sukides and Mary Sawyer who quoted from stenographic notes taken at the meeting.

Mrs. Gerrish, who acted as spokesman for the committee charged that a gross injustice had been done in not renewing the contract of Mr. Blaisdell as well as other teachers. She continued that the withholding of a teacher's contract for the benefit of our

ANOTHER NEW BLOCK STARTED

Main street interest this Summer is likely to be about evenly divided between the construction of the Farnsworth Memorial Building, which is rapidly taking shape, and the new block to be built for the J. J. Newberry Co., work on which began this morning.

Irving Curtis has the contract for the Newberry block, and is preparing the basement for the structure which will have a Main street frontage of 47 feet and a depth of 95 feet on Spring street.

The new block will be a brick structure with granite trimmings, white brick being used on the Main and Spring street elevations.

The northern wall of the present Newberry store will be removed and the two structures will be thrown into a single store, 94x100 feet in size. A sprinkler system will be installed in the basement of the new part, which will contain, in addition to other features, a modern kitchen, with a modern soda fountain.

Mr. Curtis expects to have the new building completed in 14 weeks, which means that the job will be completed within that time, other things being equal.

Gosh! We're going to have some Main street!

SAVITT ADOPTS THE NEW POLICY

Sam Savitt of Savitt's, Inc., women's ready-to-wear shop announces in an advertisement in this newspaper this morning that he is reducing the prices on every article offered for sale in his store by at least 10%.

Mr. Savitt says that this is not a flash in the pan movement or an attempt to draw attention to a sale but a permanent policy in the store which will continue.

He said he believed that the merchants of Newburyport, Mass., had the right idea when they started the movement, which is now spreading across the nation like wildfire. The only way to kill the upward spiral of prices is for the merchants to fight with price reductions all along the line, he said.

Shoppers are demanding it, according to Savitt, who says that there now exists what amounts to a buyers' strike which can only be alleviated by the bringing of prices down to such a level as is necessary to meet present conditions.

He also stated that in his capacity as chairman of the Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce he will call a meeting of that group next week in an effort to make the plan a citywide project.

SCHOOL BOARD SAYS "NO"

Principal Blaisdell Not Asked To Resign—One Sour Note Struck In Conference

The meeting of the Rockland School Board and a group of students representing the Student Council of the High School met at the McLain Building Tuesday night to discuss the resignation of Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell which resulted in an indignation parade through the city streets Monday afternoon by the students.

The students, with one or two exceptions courteous in their questioning, repeatedly asked whether or not Blaisdell had been voted against by the board prior to the presentation of his resignation, April 15. The question finally put to the board for a direct answer was "Was the resignation presented only after a 4 to 1 vote against him?"

The board retired and upon returning to the room gave the following answer, which is quoted in direct from stenographic records of the meeting:

"The sealed resignation was already in the pocket of a School Committee member, and was presented when Mr. Blaisdell's name came up. The resignation was accepted by the board. There was no vote except the voice of acceptance of the resignation."

As Supt. of Schools Robert B. Lunt finished reading the answer a student leader rose and stated that he believed the board's answer to be untrue. The statement caused a furore in the room for several moments.

The matter of Miss Jeanette Stahl first receiving a letter notifying her that her teaching contract would not be renewed and later receiving a contract, both dated April 16. Students wanted to know why both carried the same date when they were received several days apart. Supt. Robert Lunt explained that the contract was a mimeographed form and through clerical error the date had not been changed when Miss Stahl's contract was mailed on Monday.

The student group asked for a Board answer on the Miss Stahl's failure to receive a contract on the 16th and received the following answer: "This was a private matter between Miss Stahl and the Board. After an interview with representatives of the Board, the matter was settled with mutual satisfaction."

The matter of not rehiring other teachers in the system was explained that the only High-Junior teachers not contracted at the moment were two whose names had been tabled at Blaisdell's request. Two teachers in the vocational department are experiencing difficulties in arranging certificates but are expected to be approved in the near future.

Despite an agreement at the first of the meeting to keep personalities out of the discussion, they crept in during the meeting and caused some harsh moments which were quickly smothered by students and board members alike—neither desiring a brawl of name calling and airing personal feelings in a meeting which was designed to quiet a bad situation rather than intensify it.

Another student rose and talked of a possible strike if the board could not satisfy the demands of students to return Blaisdell to them as principal. Student spokesman Peter Sukides jumped to his feet and stated that he believed there was no possibility of a school strike and that it would be difficult to find one student in 100 who would strike.

THE BLACK CAT

By The Roving Reporter

It was my pleasure Wednesday night to inspect the Maine Farns Hatchery, which will have produced 100,000 baby chicks before the season has ended. The firm was burned out a year ago and resumed business in the former Mank planning mill, close to the Waldoboro business center. Managing this industry is Wilmet Dow, Jr., a former resident of Arrostook County, and former educator—long on the staff of Lincoln Academy. He reports that his baby chicks are marketed as far away as Virginia.

I saw something in Waldoboro Wednesday night that would interest lots of Rockland old-timers—a three-dollar bill, issued in 1855 by the Shipbuilders' Bank of Rockland. Henry C. Lowell's signature appears on the bill as president of the institution. The bill is owned (and treasured) by P. E. Boggs who found it among the possessions of his late father, Walter H. Boggs, who resided at Ingraham Hill.

Catered to by the smart housekeepers of the Waldoboro Grange it is small wonder that the Lions Club of that town—the best in Maine, to quote from the club song—has an increasing attendance. The turkey supper served Wednesday night at the complimentary banquet served by the Lions Club to the members of the boys' and girls' basketball teams was a revelation of what can be done in the catering line.

Wilbur Hilton is nearing the close of a very successful administration as King Lion of the Waldoboro Lions Club, aided and abetted by those two jolly song-leaders, Wilmet Dow and Ernest Boggs, with a master manipulator of the ivories. It was my pleasure to be guest speaker at Wednesday night's banquet, and have this to say, that I have never had a more pleasing reception.

When Rockland's new school building is erected here's hoping that expert attention will be paid to the matter of acoustics. The room in the McLain building where Tuesday night's conference was held is a notably bad example.

Miss Belle Spring entertained Sleeper Bible Class at lunch Monday. There were 12 present.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

THE SIMPLE THINGS
I would not be too wise—so very wise
That I must sneer at simple songs
And let the glare of wisdom blind my eyes.
To humble people and their humble needs.
I would not care to climb so high
That I could never hear the children at their play.
Could only see the people passing by,
And never hear the cheering words they say.
God grant that I may live upon this earth
And face the tasks which every morning brings
And never lose the glory and the worth
Of humble service and the simple things.

Effective Sunday

Spring Schedules Start On the Maine Central Railroad

All of Maine's principal cities and a majority of its Summer resorts will be served by the East Wind this Summer, through connections at Portland, it is shown in the Spring and Summer time tables of the Maine Central Railroad. The new schedules become effective next Sunday with the advent of daylight saving for 1947.

The East Wind, fast all-coach, daylight train between New York and Portland will terminate at the latter city this year, but by connections in both directions with the Pine Tree between Portland and Bangor and with either train or bus service to and from Lewiston, Brunswick and points on the Rockland Branch will serve a majority of Maine's Summer resorts.

Immediate changes, which take place commencing Sunday, show considerable variance from present schedules on almost all main and branch lines. Foster urged that "all patrons of the Maine Central obtain a new time table and consult them before planning a trip after midnight next Saturday as they will find that, to speed up service, make for more convenient connections and to permit the operation of a fleet of additional trains for Maine's Summer resorts, we have scheduled some trains earlier than at present and others will run later than they do at the moment."

There will be a new week-end train, the Downeaster, leaving New York on Friday nights and carrying through sleeping cars for Rockland, Waterville as well as for Rockland.

ENDORSED GOOD MAN
John M. O'Connell, Jr., managing editor of the Bangor Daily News, received the unanimous endorsement of the Bangor Rotary Club for nomination as district governor of the 1933 District of Rotary International. The 1933 District comprises clubs in both Maine and Canada and the present district governor is Judge Cyril Joly of Waterville. The election of a district governor will take place at the district conference in Quebec, May 11-13.

[EDITORIAL]

SUMMER PROSPECTS GOOD

Sanguine officials of the Maine Development Commission foresee a very busy Summer in this State, and base that assumption on the fact that vacation inquiries are running 10 percent higher than last year when it was estimated that vacation seekers spent $115,000,000 in Maine, also an all time record. The Commission said that hotels and sporting camps have reported that reservations are heavy, with many boys' and girls' camps already booked to capacity. With more cars on the road since prewar years, Commission officials expect homes and overnight camps to have a successful year. Able to get supplies once more, recreational property owners are busily renovating and repairing their property in anticipation of the influx of Summer visitors.

THE DECLINE OF MR. WALLACE

The popularity of the former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, has declined sharply during the past five months, due in a very large measure to a disagreement with his policy toward Russia as voiced in his recent European speeches. According to the Gallup Poll, Wallace was runner-up last May as a Democratic Presidential choice, with 24 percent of the straw vote as compared with 61 percent for President Truman. Last December the Truman percentage had dropped to 48, while Wallace was retaining his 24 percent. Last March Truman advanced to 69 percent, and Wallace decreased to 13 percent. Today the relative figures are 79 to 9, and at this rate the Wallace strength will soon be invisible to the naked eye. Wallace may be more popular in Russia, but Russia doesn't elect Presidents of the United States.

CUTTING COST OF LIVING

Newburyport, Mass., is undertaking to set a worthy example for the rest of the country by making a flat 10 percent reduction in the cost of living. It had the effect of bringing out crowds of shoppers in Massachusetts, and the country waits to see if the idea will be generally accepted. Seems almost too good to be true.

G. O. P. CHOOSES PHILADELPHIA

The Republican National Committee has chosen Philadelphia for its 1948 convention with a minimum of fuss and acrimony. In other years weeks of jockeying and tub-thumping have often preceded the selection of a meeting place while geographic factors and preferences of prospective candidates have been weighed with solemn hocus-pocus.

In Kansas City on Monday there seems to have been a relatively brief and commonsense consideration of the business at hand. Philadelphia representatives waved a certified check for $300,000 promised $50,000 more for the entertainment of delegates and guaranteed 8,000 hotel rooms—6,000 of them first class. What could be fairer than that? Supplementing these practical considerations the committee members were reminded that Philadelphia had been Republican in thought, word, deed and municipal government almost since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

Philadelphia trails far behind Chicago as a convention scene, but it has its memories. John C. Fremont was nominated there in 1856, U. S. Grant in 1872, William McKinley in 1900, Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 and Wendell L. Willkie in 1940. It is interesting to note that three of its five conventions nominated Presidents already in office for a second term, nominations usually devoid of sensation or drama. But if the nomination of Grant in 1872 was matter-of-course and the naming of McKinley in 1900 and Roosevelt in 1936 perfunctory and inevitable, the 1940 convention which nominated Willkie held enough surprise, spontaneity and historic drama to spread across the years and raise the general Philadelphia average.

Conventions are unpredictable nowadays. Without hazarding a guess concerning the candidates it may be said that the Republican meeting in 1948 will determine large issues in American life and perhaps go far toward completing the task begun in the 1946 Congressional elections. In Philadelphia the Republicans will find a warm, hospitable atmosphere for this historic labors. —Herald Tribune

This newest product of the famous lecturer "With MacMillan in the Far North" is illustrated with 3000 feet of technicolor film, depicting scenes of incredible beauty. The Legion-Pirates

Name Of Team Which Will Represent Rockland In Twilight League

The Rockland entry into the Twilight League this Summer will play under the name of the Legion-Pirates and will be backed by the American Legion. The team as yet has had no practice but on Sunday, weather permitting, at 2 o'clock at Community Park the first workout will be held.

The team on paper shapes up very nicely, with an infield of Al Barlowe on first, Tommy Anderson or Freddy Allen second, Art B. Jings shortstop, and Bo Miller third. Johnny Duff will be back to catch. In the outfield Raymie Ellis and Jonsey from the Coast Guard base look like stars. Freddy LaCrosse, Buddy Chisholm and Schaffer, who is also a Coast Guardsman, will probably do the pitching for Rockland.

McLellan and Holden, who played last Summer with the club, will probably be on hand when the school season is over.

All of the positions on the club are open and the management invites anybody who would like to play ball this Summer to be at the Park Sunday for practice.

In the Portland paper of last week appeared a request for a game to be played in Rockland Memorial Day by a team being formed to be known as the Rockland Rockets. The Legion-Pirates manager called the coach of the new team to say his club would like very much to play here Memorial Day. But one of the Rockets managers declined the offer very hastily. However, the Warren club which whipped Rockland so soundly last year in Warren, was contacted and on Memorial Day will play the Legion-Pirates in Rockland. These Warren boys are all set to join the Twilight League and have a good club in the making.

Sunday, May 11, the Legion-Pirates will play at the Prison against the strong Prison club.

New suits are to be ordered and with new catching equipment, bats, etc., the Rockland entry in the league will look like a ball club as well as play like one.

The Sea Scouts

This Useful Organization Sponsored By Lions Club, Begins Ninth Year

A movie program was the highlight of the meeting Wednesday night. The reels, furnished by the Navy Department covered the following subjects, pertinent to Sea Scout studies: "Overtaking Vessels," "Whistle Signals," "Rules of the Nautical Road," "The Halifax Incident," and "The Beaver-Selja Incident." Through these Walt Disney drawings, the Scouts learned the all-important facts regarding Marine Law; what happened when either or both casualties disregarded any part of that Law.

The Sea Scout committee chairman presented the Ship with its re-registration papers. This will mark the beginning of the ship's ninth year of operation, continuously under sponsorship of the Rockland Lions Club, with never a waver of the club's interest in the Ship. Those re-registering are: Fred George, Robert Chatto, Donald Smalley, Richard Senter, Norman Hammond, Henry Sleeper, Richard Jones, Anthony Guistin, Jack Northgraves, Philip Magitz, John Benson, Clifford Harper, Louis Leach, Richard Randall, Robert Carver, Charles Foster, Richard Harper, Peter Sulides, John Joseph, Frank Bridges, James Bartlett, William Harriman, Cedric Long, Howard Varney, Richard Tomkins, Donald Joseph, Skipper Isaac Hammond and Mates John Perry and Miles Sawyer are re-registering as officers of the ship.

Visitors at the meeting were Roland G. Ware, Raymond Penileton, Norman Kangas, Bradford Sleeper, David Scarlett, and committeemen Maurice McKusie, Wilbur Senter, and Luther Bickmore.

Crew III has been given the job of finishing the painting of the hull of the motor lifeboat. The boat will be launched early next week and towed to the Coast Guard Wharf for further repairs.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

When you go to bed Saturday night set your timepieces ahead one hour and then you will not be late to church—or dinner. The daylight saving system will be in vogue until the last Sunday in September.

Everett D. Small of Limerock street, Rockland, paid a fine of $10 and costs of court of $4.82 in Municipal Court Thursday morning on charges of speeding at the rate of 55 miles per hour on Camden street Wednesday night.

One year ago: Clayton Staples of Thomaston was elected president of the Knox County Fish and Game Association.—Mrs. Frances Pearson was elected president of the Rockland Garden Club.—Glenn A. Lawrence was establishing a sardine factory in Bath.—Mrs. Donovan J. Dyer, 29, died in Camden.

Philip Sulides, together with his son and daughter, Peter and Jeanette, narrowly escaped serious injury early Monday morning when returning home from Euston in a car operated by Charles Simmons of Rockland. The Simmons car is said to have skidded on the snow covered cement pavement near Wells and went off the road. A tree branch was driven through the windshield of the car and ripped the jacket of Peter but didn't scratch him. All occupants of the car were badly shaken up but were able to continue their trip later in the morning.

The "Ouster" Petitions

Four Hundred Said To Have Signed Them Asking School Board Resignations

Charles H. McIntosh, president of the Junior-Senior High School P.T.A. and leader of the Citizens Committee which is moving for the ouster of the Rockland School Board in the dispute over the alleged forced resignation of Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell, stated this morning that he believed there had been about 400 signatures affixed to the petitions for the resignation of four of the five members of the board.

Mr. Eula Gerrish, spokesman for the Citizens' Committee stated this morning, too, that she believed the figure to be nearer 1000 as she knew that approximately 20 copies were now in circulation and that High School students had a number to circulate.

McIntosh stated that he had been out of touch with the situation for 24 hours and it was possible that a greater number of signatures had been obtained than he had knowledge of.

Principal Blaisdell stated that no members of the Student Council were engaged in circulating the petitions. He continued to point out that some G. I. students in the school, not Student Council members, might have the papers in their possession but that it was not an activity prompted by himself or the school.

Blaisdell said that no telegrams relative to his resignation had been received by himself or at the school from any other teacher and parent group.

Chairman John M. Richardson of the School Board stated that he had received telegrams from the Cumberland County Teachers Association protesting Blaisdell's resignation which was signed by Samuel Brocato, head of the art department at Gorham State Teachers' College and spokesman for the Cumberland Association.

Daylight Saving Time will go into effect in Rockland at 12:01 a. m. Sunday, according to a resolve passed recently by the City Council which allows the city to join the remainder of the State in advancing the clocks one hour.

Saturday night all roads will lead to the Community Building where old friends are to meet. The occasion being the return of those ever popular radio stars, Jimmie and Dick. Associated with them will be Cora Deane, Flash Willie, Beverly Ann, Lois Pierson and others. The show time will be 8:30 so as to give all time to shop before attending the show. One of the cleanest and best radio cowboy shows ever to play in Rockland.

deli were to withdraw his resignation would be re-elected. Richardson replied that that was a hypothetical question, depending upon Mr. Blaisdell's action.

Invited to a proposed student and parent mass meeting on Wednesday night at the High School, Richardson, speaking for the board, stated that the board would attend no mass meetings but would consider meeting a committee appointed by such a meeting.

The parade of Monday was referred to by the board as the result of misguided loyalty on the part of the students, especially the signs carried by the students and which caused some hot discussion in the meeting.

Peter Sulides, speaking for the students, suggested that all events of Monday—the parade, its far from complimentary placards, and the statements of a board member and students alike—be cancelled completely and the situation carried on from where it now stood, with no thought to past events. The board and students agreed completely on the suggestion and the meeting closed in harmony after nearly two and one-half hours of tense questions and answers.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

The Navy bomb disposal experts are again in Penobscot Bay; this time to make a survey of Seal Island, which was used as a war-time target area, today.

Lieut. (j.g.) Daniel Salmon arrived at the Coast Guard base last night on orders of the Commandant of the First Naval District at Boston and will be taken to the island today by a Coast Guard picket boat.

The island, which was used for both bombing and surface craft gunfire practice during the war, lies 6½ miles East of Matineclous and approximately 20 miles south-east of Rockland. It is about one mile in length and 400 yards across at its greatest width.

Considerable Naval activity centered about the uninhabited island during the war with all types of Naval craft from destroyers to battleships using it as a target range while planes from carriers and those of the Army at Dow Field, Bangor, used it for an aerial target range, too.

Mr. Salmon stated that he will survey the island today for unexploded bombs and shells and will make his report to headquarters upon his return this afternoon. He is expected to bring a special explosive detail here to clean up the island in the near future, should he find it necessary.

According to police he had originally deposited a $1,500 check, which was worthless, with a New York bank and then, during the past week, drew against it.

Here's Your Chance To Help Former Rockland Boy On "Yankee Yarn"

5 Basset St., Lynn, Mass.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette—

As I am preparing a series of radio broadcasts dealing with exciting events in Penobscot Bay—I would like to know if any of your readers can enlighten me—as to the location of "Maple Juice Cove" near Rockland, Me., where one William Dicke, of Warren captured a sloop (in 1780)?

Also—just where in Thomaston was the home of Gen. Peter Wade—who escaped from Fort George in Castine?

Who knows the details of the encounter of one Andrew Fales of Thomaston—who was fired upon twice by a company of 60 British soldiers—and wasn't even hit?

I have been advised that some of this information can be found in Cyrus Eaton's History of Thomaston and Warren—and in Sibley's History of Union but as neither of these books are to be had today—I'm wondering if there are other sources?

Rockland Lions

School Fuss Discussed Briefly—Warden Dow Explains Sea Moss Industry

Rockland's school mess flared into the open at Wednesday's meeting of the Lions Club, but was left smoldering on the table, as it was the expressed wish of most members to keep the club free from entanglements of this sort.

The motion to give Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell a vote of confidence was offered by Sheriff C. Earle Ludwick. Before the matter could be put to a vote Dr. Gilmore Soule, who is a member of the School Board as well as the Lions Club, said that the Board acted as a body and not individually.

Carl Griffith expressed the opinion that the Lions as a club keep right out of the controversy. Sam Savitt didn't think action should be taken until "we know what the whole story is."

And the motion was tabled.

King Lion Harding appointed Carl Griffith, Nathan Berliawsky, Maurice Nute and Cliff Cross as a committee from the Club to act on the cancer drive.

Curtis Goodwin was awarded a key member's pin.

The matter of the zone meeting to be held in Waldoboro May 7, was discussed. Several members of the local club will attend.

Dr. Luther Bickmore introduced as guest speaker Warden George Dow, who presented motion pictures on the sea moss industry, supplementing them with a highly interesting talk.

Prairie
This is a country I have always loved—
This wide expanse of earth beneath the sky.
So many miles of land, yet like the sea
It holds me in its spell unwearied still.
Cloud shadows passing change the colors here
As currents moving change the ocean's face;
The winds that sweep across the prairie grass
Turn back each blade revealing gleams of light;
So curling waves turn silver as they break;
And as we shade our eyes to watch for ships
Upon the line where ocean touches sky
We hail the lonely horseman riding home.

At the Country Club—A glifer observed two small boys watching him and remarked: "You boys will never learn by watching me."
"We ain't interested in golf, Mister," said the small boys, "we're going fishing as soon as you dig up some more worms."

Now I am sure of Spring; the sun banks steep—
And yet more steeply, with each new-turned day;
And pours fresh gold into the muted heart.
The wide snow-water crowds the simple way
A brooklet narrowed to, and makes, instead,
Half of the pasture to its restless bed.
And brown boughs bend, obediently still,
To hold an early finch's student-note.
One with their wakening buds, the grieving dark
Ascends, no more to loneliness; my throat
Flies to the measure of a hill, not far.
That owns a pussywillow, and a star.

William E. Sheerer

Death Of Fine Old St. George Man, the Town's Oldest Resident

The late William E. Sheerer, from a photograph made one year ago in his photograph.

William E. Sheerer, Tenant's Harbor's "Grand Old Man"—94 years of age, and the oldest resident of that town, died Tuesday night. Services will be held from the Davis Funeral Home in Thomaston Saturday afternoon, Rev. Earl Hunt of the Baptist Church officiating. Brother Masons will act as bearers. Committal service and interment will be in Seaside cemetery, Tenant's Harbor.

William E. Sheerer was born in St. George, July 21, 1852. Milestones in his life-time may be summed up impressively with the statement that he had been in business for himself 75 years, had been a Western Union manager 71 years and was postmaster 36 years.

Mr. Sheerer had spent all of his life in the town of St. George except for the occasional sea voyages which he made with his father, Capt. Fred Sheerer in the little two-masted schooner, Four Sisters.

The Maine schooner was at Cape Hatteras Inlet during a Civil War blockade and finally discharged its cargo of coal aboard a Union war craft. Mr. Sheerer in the course of his Southern voyages remembered seeing the flag half-staff for the late President Abraham Lincoln.

Quitting the sea, which he was well content to do after five years of it, Mr. Sheerer came back home and worked three years in John E. Knore's store, and when the owner died he kept on in the employ of John Tracy.

And then came the all important day away back in 1871 when Mr. Sheerer hung out a sign over his own store, where within a few weeks of his demise he was still attending to the wants of customers.

He became postmaster at Tenant's Harbor in 1875, and, as he graphically expressed it, was kicked out and kicked in as Federal administration alternated. He went out for good after Woodrow Wilson became postmaster and attended strictly to his mercantile affairs, which for a long time included the

Garden Club Event

Silver Tea In Connection With Annual Meeting—Miss Jameson's Paper

A very delightful silver tea was held by the Rockland Garden Club in the vestry of the Congregational Church Tuesday afternoon, with 38 members and guests present. This being the annual meeting of the club, the annual report of the various officers and committees were read.

The nominating committee presented the list of officers for the ensuing year and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Francis Pearson; vice president, Mrs. George Avery; secretary, Mrs. Stuart C. Burgess; treasurer, Mrs. David S. Beach.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Carlsley, the program chairman, presented Mrs. Oram Lawry, Jr., who sang two songs with Mrs. Faith Berry at the piano. "An Open Secret," by E. Huntington Woodman, and "Little Pickaninny Kid," by Guich. Mrs. Lawry has a very pleasing voice and her selections were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Caroline Jameson presented her paper on the "Courtship of Birds," which she announced was taken partly from "The Courtship of Animals," by Julian Huxley. This was a repeat performance by request of the members and was a treat to those who did not have the pleasure of hearing Miss Jameson when she first read the paper, as well as to those who were hearing it again.

The tea table with its lacy cloth, Spring bouquet, and sparkling silver services was a picture. Mrs. Robert Burns and Mrs. Stuart Burgess poured and the hostesses for the day assisted in serving. The hostesses were Mrs. Katherine Haynes, Mrs. Dorothy Smalley, Mrs. Dora Bird, Mrs. Eva Heller, and Mrs. Dorothy Carlsley. The cakes and sandwiches were furnished by the members.

Mrs. Charles Wotton of the Owl's Head Garden Club and Mrs. Charles McKeith were special guests.

As Western Union manager—possibly the oldest in the United States—he pounced the key for 24 years, but in later years transmitted St. George messages to Rockland by telephone.

He was devoted to harness racing for many years, and owned a number of fast horses. He was a Mason, an Odd Fellow and a staunch Republican, although he never held town office.

Mr. Sheerer was married in 1874 to the late Olive Robinson. There is one son Leroy C. Sheerer, who is now in charge of the grocery. There were 19 children in the family to which Mr. Sheerer belonged, and there are two other survivors—Mrs. Rosamond Dukeshire of Billerica, Mass. and Mrs. Fannie M. Orcutt of St. Petersburg, Fla.; also a granddaughter, Miss Marguerite Treat of Thomaston, and three great-grandchildren.

Gave Much Pleasure

Glee Clubs From University of Maine Heard In a Fine Concert

The Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of the University of Maine were well received in a concert given at the Community Building Monday night under the auspices of Rockland Congregational Men's Association. Over 400 persons were present.

Led by James Gordon Selwood, the chorus of 190 voices presented a variety of numbers, ranging from classical and sacred music to light opera.

Several Rockland students at the University appeared on the program; among them, Harrison Dow and Paul Payson, both baritones. Roy Joyce, soloist, of Rockland, was unable to appear on the program due to illness. Stanley Murray of Rockland was one of the group's accompanist, and took part in a duet with William Newdick.

The Rockland artists gave an excellent account of themselves in respective specialties.

The concert closed with the singing of the Maine State Song by the entire chorus.

Mrs. Nathalie Snow, general chairman of the benefit program and dance to be held at the Community Building May 1, has announced the following committees: Student ticket, Ruth E. Sanborn; ticket window, Emilio Hary and Marion Ginn; dance chairman, Doris Coitart; raffle box, Raymond Perry; check room, Ernest Jones; doors, Frank Vaitones and Kenneth MacDougall. Tickets will be on sale at the Maine Music Company and at Huston-Tuttle's.

Sunday at the Littlefield Memo-

tract for disciplinary measures was out of order. [This, presumably, in the matter of Miss Jeanette Stahl].

Referring to the vocational department, which she claimed was to be removed; she said it was poor economy to take out the department as there is a group which cannot take in classical knowledge and which needs vocational training. She also pointed out that many of the students will necessarily earn their living with their hands and that the war just past was won by those who worked with their hands in industry.

There has been no statement by the school board or Supt. Lunt that the vocational department is to be discontinued. What has been announced is that two of the four teachers now employed in that department are at present experiencing technical difficulties in obtaining State approval to teach—difficulties which may be ironed out in the immediate future.

There has been no intention of discontinue the vocational training in Rockland schools—in fact, the School Board announced only this past week that a vocational guidance teacher as well as a full complement of shop teachers will be employed in addition to a full time music teacher and art teacher. What had been stated was that there was a possibility that vocational training for the Eighth Grade students might be discontinued as the State authorities had ruled that crowded shop conditions had to be eased next year. The grade students being selected, presumably, as they would still have an opportunity to take the course through four full years of high school.

Joseph E. Blaisdell, appearing before the meeting at the request of the chairman, stated that three weeks ago he suspected something would happen in relation to renewal of his contract and that he asked Superintendent of Schools Lunt to inform him if such an action was contemplated in time to allow him to resign prior to any official board action.

He pointed out that such caution was essential to protect him in the teaching profession and that he now had 30 years' teaching experience behind him.

He said he had left his resignation in the hands of a School Board member to be presented to the board if he was not re-elected. He flatly stated that he knew that a vote was taken and that he was voted against four to one. It was then, he said, that his resignation was accepted and that he had had no advance information on the intended action.

Mrs. Clara Kelsey suggested that the group present select a committee of 25 persons from all trades and professions to meet with the school board to discuss the situation thoroughly.

Former Mayor Laforest A. Thurston pointed out that it was no use to interview the School Board as it was now plain what type of School Board we have and recommended that some action should be taken at the meeting.

At this point, Mrs. Gerrish read the petition which was accepted by the audience as the method to approach the situation by ousting the School Board.

No School Board members were present although McIntosh stated that he had sent all members a registered letter during the day and had the return receipts which signified that they had received them. The School Board had previously announced that they would not attend such a meeting, but had notified Mrs. Gerrish prior to the meeting that they would meet any committee it appointed.

Thomas Stone, telephone company executive, said that even though he might be putting his head in the lion's mouth, he was going to speak for the Board. He was in favor of letting the School Board continue its work without interference at this time. He pointed out that it was impossible for a group such as was present at the meeting to operate the schools and stated that anyone who wished to do so could run for School Board at the next election. He brought up the fact that last Fall when there were two vacancies on the School Board, only three candidates could be obtained to run for the positions.

Both cheers and boos were heard as he finished and returned to his seat.

Mrs. Gerrish commented: "The gentleman's courage is commendable but his judgment is poor." Dana Cummings, former shop teacher in the schools, pointed out, in his opinion, if the man at the head of the school system—and by that he said he meant Supt. Lunt—were doing his job properly, this condition would not exist. He explained that it was the duty of the superintendent to recommend and that of the School Board to elect. He believed that Lunt failed to recommend Blaisdell.

Cummings said that he was sorry that Mr. Blaisdell had to work under Supt. Lunt as he himself had had difficulties with Lunt when he was a teacher. He admonished the citizens to act so that it cannot happen again.

Jack Black asked how long it would take to obtain an election for a new School Board, should they resign as the petition urged.

Attorney Roberts pointed out that it was impossible under the city charter to remove the School Board. In case of resignation or a vacancy for other reasons, the City Council had the authority to elect a person to serve until the next regular election, according to the charter, he said. He further pointed out that the only possible way to remove the Board would be to appeal to the legislature, now in session, and ask for impeachment. Petitions were available in the lower hallway of the school for those who wished to sign as they passed from the building.

dissemination. As every poultryman knows, the success or failure of a poultry enterprise often times depends on how well poultry diseases are controlled. Therefore, it is vitally important that every poultryman learn to recognize the symptoms of the various diseases and the methods of control. Losses in poultry are very costly whether in chicks or laying hens. Many important aspects of disease control and diagnosis are to be covered in the above meeting.

Blueberry growers as well as orchardists will be interested in a meeting that will be held at West Rockport Engine Hall, Saturday at 1:30, on dusting with a Helicopter. Mr. Wright of the Agricultural Flying Service will be there and will show a movie on dusting by plane. The first dust for blueberries should be applied the last of this month or the first of May, using 20-25 pounds of D.D.T. per acre. This will control flea beetles as well as other insects found on blueberry fields.

The Appleton Farm Bureau met April 15 at the home of Sheila Hart. Nine members were present. Miss Priscilla Moore, home demonstration agent, was in charge of the meeting on "Buying Guides."

Charlotte Cleaves Smith, clothing specialist from the Maine Extension Service, will conduct the meeting on "Buying Guides" for the Edgcomb group April 29. The latest information on new textiles will be discussed by Mrs. Smith. Other "Buying Guides" meetings will be conducted by Priscilla Moore, home demonstration agent, in the following communities: Nobleboro, April 30; Boothbay, May 2.
